

THURSDAY, July 9 – DINNER PROGRAM

Fundamentals of ADA

How did ADA come to pass? What were the issues that brought about the regulations? What are Titles II, III, and V of the ADA regulations and how do these titles affect your design work? How is the ADA regulated and enforced by the courts? What quality assurance procedures does your firm perform before submitting for permit? Come and learn the answers to these and other related questions during an interesting and informative evening of ADA fundamentals.

Senate Bill 1608 now requires that all architects complete coursework on disabled access as a condition of renewing their licenses. This course satisfies the California Architects Board mandatory education requirement. Renewal forms will be presented to attendees at the end of the evening.

Learning Objectives:

- Review the history leading up to the passage of ADA and equal access.
- Study the Titles of the ADA that directly affect the built environment and architectural design.
- Gain knowledge of the Access Committee, ADAAG, and the oversight and enforcement of ADA in federal departments.
- Learn the consequences of not considering access in design – litigation, errors, and omissions.

Presenter:

Dawn Anderson, AIA, CSI, is a registered architect, a California access specialist, and OSHPD / ICC certified inspector with 30 years of contract document production, quality assurance, and construction administration experience. She teaches building code courses at San Mateo College and Advanced Plans Reading seminars for CSI Santa Clara Valley chapter. Her firm, As It Stands, provides quality assurance and peer review services, code research and appeals, and construction inspection for large hospitals and other institutional and commercial projects. Accessibility surveys, reports, as-built documentation, property certifications, and expert witness services are provided for clients desiring to correct existing non-compliant conditions.

Join us for dinner at the Biltmore Hotel, 2151 Laurelwood Road, Santa Clara (Montague Expressway and 101). The evening begins at 6:00 PM with social hour. Dinner starts at 7:00 PM followed by the program at 8:00 PM. The price for dinner is $32.00, which includes gratuity and tax. Please make your reservations by noon on Tuesday, July 7th. No-shows will be charged. Email Krista Nelson, CSI, at Krista@aba-arch.com or phone (408) 298-1885. Guests are welcome.
